SAUCE FOR CHILI.

The President's Treatment of the Baltimore Incident

REGARDED AS NERACING A RUPTURE.

Have Hands Free for Trouble with Spain-Active Preparations for War Progressing.

VALPARAISO, Due, 10. - The substance of President Harrison's statement of Chilian affairs was received yesterday, and is a subject of universal comment. It is regarded by the Chihans as decidedly menacing a rupture between the two countries, as it is not believed that the Chilian government will consent either to apologize or to offer any material indemnity. The majority in congress is known to be opposed to any concession, and the Chillan government, although possessed of great influence, would find it diffi-cult to early the necessary support for any humiliating measures. It is now no secret that the government is proceeding actively with warlike preparations, and that artillery of the lat-est manufacture has been ordered from Germany in anticipation of hostilities possibly with other powers and proba-bly with the United States. The situa-tion is complicated by Spain's demand for a large indemnity. The Chilians bave always detested the Spanlards, and the batred is quickened by this demand, which the Chilians say is presented now in order to take advantage of existing difficulties. The general sentiment indientes that they would challenge Spain, if they had not the United States to deal with, and an American officia expressed the opinion yesterday that the Chilians might conclude to settle

REVENUE REFORM IN MEXICO.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS. THURSDAY EVENING. DECEMBER 10. 1891.

der Advisement.
Concord, N. H., Dec. 9.—The final argument in the case of Sawtelle was made for the state to-day by Attorney-General Barnard. He reviewed the evinational customs duties in the republic dence and claimed that that produced by the defense to secure a new trial was of a negative character. He dwelt upon the silence of the prisoner who, e said, notwithstanding that he was he said, notwithstanding that as was fully possessed of the facts of the mur-der, had not said anything until the present time. Its said that the prison-er's stbry was improbable. He con-tended that Isaac killed Hiram in New Hampshire, and then carried the dead body of his brother to Maine, removed the head and secreted it so that no evidence of his guilt could be discovered.

He did not think that the prisoner was James A. Edgerly, counsel for the prisoner, followed. He said that the only question involved was that of jurisdiction. The crime was a terrible one, but it would be more terrible to hang a man in a state where 20 crime was committed. Sawtelle had said in court that he had killed his brother ind that no one had helped him, and that it made little difference to him whether he be hanged on January 5, or imprisoned for life in Maine. All ne asked for was justice. Sawtelle wept while his counsel was pleading in

A BRUTAL SON

Makes an Atrocious Attempt to Rob His Own Mother and Lands in Jail. Newron, Mass., Dec. 10.-An atro cious attempt at robbery was made in this place Tuesday night, in which a son, devoid of all filial respect and af-fection, was the principal. Mrs. Bridget Carney keeps a small store in rith America in order to defy the River street, and at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, while alone in the place two men entered, one of whom, in a disguised but brutal tone, demanded her money. The men had their hats down over their faces and the woman did not recognize them at the first glance. She refused to comply with the demand, whereupon the apokesman threatened to kill her. Suiting his action to his words, the ruf-fian sprang forward and forced the woman to a lounge in the store, at the same time calling upon his companion to strap her. During the scuffe the hat of the man who had grasped Mrs. Carney fell to the ground, and the poor woman, though half dead with fright, was still more horrified to recognize in her chief assailant her own son Joseph, who had been in New York for some time, and who had returned unknown to her. Mrs Carney said sho would give her son the money if he would allow her to go in a back room where it was kept to fetch it. He did so, and she took the opportuity to escape by a back door, whence she want

THE ATTEBERRY BOYS

Accused Occupy Separate Cells at Shelbyville.

Shelbyville Union, Dec. 10. David Atteberry, Jr., of Decatur, rother of Ed and Grant, came down rom Moawequa with E. A. Richardson esterday and called on the boys at the county jail. David is firm in the belief that the boys are innocent, and will, we inderstand, do his best toward clearing them of the charge. The prosecution is not making a brass band campaign in its efforts to nnearth evidence to convict the boys, but we learn from outside sources that Young Radford, a clerk in a store at Radford, a small station between Assumption and Moweaqua, was in town a few days since and on being taken to the jail identified Ed as the man who bought some shot of him at about noon on the day of the murder. The store is about two and one half miles distant from Grant's home and as Ed admits to being at Grant's house that day, it looks very much as though he was the purchaser of the shot, which, on comparison, prove to be about the same size and weight as those extracted from the murdered man's brain. The shot from the latter as we'll as those brought down by Young Radford are now in possession of Steriff Colbert, and will be kept for use as silent witnesses against the sons when the case comes to trial. Another piece of evidence against the boys has come to light in the shape of an assertion from the senor Atteberry, who, when in Moweaqua the day of the murder, said to a friend: "I think I saved my life by coming to town to-day." And so it goes. Day by day, evidence pointing to the guilt of the accused is being unearthed. In the meantime Grant and Ed occupy separate cells in the county jail and are seemingly taking things as cool'as could be expected under the circumstances. A New Electric Appliance system of England was devised and exists for the benefit of capitalists, with total disregard for the rights of labor. Mr. Ben Tillett, the famous English labor leader, has lately emphasized this fact. He has been asked to stand for Parliament against Mr. Alfred Illingsworth, and gives as his reason for favor ably considering the proposition that "as a representative of labor he recognizes in Mr. Alfred Illingsworth, M. P., a representative of the old and uncompromising school of manufacturers who, in rigidly applying the logical principles of free rade, have shown little sympathy with labor," The interests of American labor are quite as little thought of by those now conducting the orusade against American industries, the sources from which labor draws its sustenance,

GRANT.

For years General Grant was cnown as a constant smoker. He and his cigar were familiar terms. Finally he was troubled with a slight soreness in his throat. He first noticed the trouble from the fact that whenever he ate a peach he suffered the most exquisite pain. His physicians at first thought very little of it. Then as that possibly something was the matter, until at last it developed to cancer. In this insidious way half the throat troubles begin, first with a slight hoarseness, then it settles into a cough, and finally it develops into consumption. The safe way is to treat these maladies at the outset; lose no time with them. As soon as a cold manifests itself, take Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure, and at once heal the congested blood vessels, relieve the malady, and restore the organs to their wonted the senate chamber at the state house at Springfield this week, with 400 in attendance. Worthy Master J. M. Thompson delivered his annual address. It conained a good many statistics. He said that in 1890 the average price of wheat farmers are losing money, and he advised CUT IN TWO to secure a redress of their wrongs, to make themselves an independent factor by bolting unsatisfactory candidates, and demanding a full share of all the nominaprosposed by the National Grange to saure through the executive committee hom a trust company or a loan association a load large enough to float the mortgaged indebtedness of all the memhere of the organization, at a rate not ex exeding three or four per cent. It was estimated that the amount required would be about $200,000,000. FUNERAL OF MRS. ECKELS. Impressive Services at the Family

The last sad rites over the remains o the late Mrs. J. P. Eckels were solemaized yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clook at the family residence on West William street, Rev. W. H. Penhallegon, of the First Presbyterian church, officiating Use the celebrated White Loaf and The residence was completely filled with elatives and friends of the departed and the floral offerings were many and very beautiful, among them being a pillow with the word "mamma" in purple across the front. A beautiful pillow of flowers was sent by Morehouse, Wells & Co., also a lyre by the employes of the Lytle & Eckels Company. The Presbyterian hoir, composed of Misses Ebert and Keeler and Mesers. C. W. Montgomers and O. N. Brown, furnished appropriate music for the occasion. They sung "Abide With Me" at the request of Mrs. trash butter at Hanks & Co.'s store, 143 C. W. Hurst, mother of the deceased. Rev. Penhallogon without announcing the text read the following passage from the scriptures: "For I am in a strait be-Telephone 109, 89 or 227. be with Christ which is fur better." The postor said:

"So spake one of the world's most distinguished men nearly nineteen centuries ago. Death naturally was not better," nor life worse to him thant on us. He was not a disappointed man. He had seen all sides of life, and passed through varied experiences. He knew what distinction was. He had been honored. He had sat upon the apex of earthly fame. He was no stranger to happiness. He drank at her fountain. These things he gathered and put in the scales, Over against them he put the limitations, the disappointments, the sorrows and pame of life, and looking lit both he said. 'I am in a strait betwirt two,' etc. That experience was not peculiar to him. He stands not alone the subject of migled feelings, and contending emotions. Humanity has ever had to buttle with these contending desires. There is much in life that causes us to hold it with a tensions grasp. The world in whooh we have is full of beauty. The blessings which it gives are rich and rare Its friendships are precious, the domestic tree sacred, the home blessed and life so sweet that we naturally ding to it. But there is another view. Life has its vices: tudes, cloudy days follow the sunshnood adarkness follows the light, friendship's bee are shattered, health gives way, distent of the same of the comes and becomes a bunden. Then it is that one is led to say, "I am in a strait betwirt two." Rev. Penhallegon then referred to Mrs. Eckels. She had muny things to bold her to life. She was comparatively a young woman, with a large and interest two? Rev. Penhallegon then referred to the organization who can post should be read to many and the children devotedly and was as devotedly loved by them. She would have gladly hved for them, but disassed and in a strait, having a desire to depart and he with Christ, which is far better?"

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES

Engineer Woodruff, of the Illinois Central Receives Fatal Injuries in a Wreck George Woodruff, the well known Illiois Central engineer, met his doom yeserday afternoon in a railway accident at Arcola. At that place the T. H. & P. coad crosses the Illinois Central track. AT. H., & P. freight was crossing about 2 p. m. yesterday and had succeeded in getting all but one car across when a Central "light" came south toward the crossing at a rapid rate of speed. The Central engineer and fireman realized the danger and the fireman jumped. Woodruff remained at his post. The big mogul engine struck the car and overturned it, at the same time the engine overturning, catching the faithful engineer beneath the wreck. Woodruff's legs were caught in the debris, but his body was loose. A horrible death awaited him. The escaping ateam and scalding water soon enveloped him. Woodruff could talk with the men who were busy trying to extricate him from preferable to the swiul suffering he was Russell's new play, which, it is said, has made a very strong impression. The author, Mr. Edward E. Kidder, who also wrote "A Poor Relation" for Mr. Russell, has (met with extraordinary success in formulating another character which should successfully follow that of "Nosh Vule" in "A Poor Relation." Mr. Russell, it is gratifying to know, has in "Hoses Howe" found another artistic triumph. No name connected with the drams is more thoroughly identified with pure, clean, legitimate comedy than that t Bal Smith Russell. His engagement in this city is for next Tuesday evening

SUDDEN DEATH OF MISSELLA SILVERS Taken Away in a Moment—Verdic

Ball" was on at the Grand last night, and s large audience was enjoying the lenter taining diversion from the cares of business and domestic life, the messenge of death stopped a young lady as she left the box office to enter the play house. A moment before as she came in off the street she was gay and lighthearted. In less than five minutes she was a corpse, and while the lifeless form of the young woman lay moon the pharmacist's table in the drng store, the play went on, the people laughed and smiled, utterly oblivious to the fact that but a few feet away a human being had been swiftly became dining room girls at the St. Nicholas Hotel. Miss Sallivan a few weeks ago went to the New Branswick hotel and Miss Silvers remained at the St. Nicholas. She waned on the table until 7:30 last evening, and then went to her room to prepare to go to the opera house accompanied by her friend, Miss Bessie Anderson. They were late, and doubtless both harried to reach the hall. Miss Anderson bought the tickets of Vade Conklin, the cushier. There was no evidence of undne excitement. Miss Silvers turned to enter the foyer through the swinging door, but just then she sank auddenly upon the tale floor. It seemed to be a faint. She sank first upon her kness and then fell over gently on the floor. Charles Head, Guy Bishop, Gordon Damrow and Daniel Myers were the only persons in the box office entrance besides the two young ladies, and they saw Ella fail. Mr. Head rushed to her assistance, and just then Ralph Templeton and Manager Haines came out of the foyer. Miss Silvers was car ried into the Templeton pharmacy, assisted by Leslie Schwab, and Dr. Will Barnes was summoned from the drug store. He reached her after she had been laid out upon the table in the pharmagest room, and Miss Anderson loosened her clothes. When that was done Miss Silvers breathed for the last time, and death shut out her young life. It was pronounced a case of heart disease. Coroner Bendure and Undertaker Bullard Laux, proprietor of the St. Nicholas, personally saw that the young woman was properly cared for. A crowd of friends, including many young ladies, gathered at the undertaker's room last night, and there were frequent manifestations of sorrow on the part of the young lady friends of the deceased who loved her as a sister.

THE INQUEST. Coroner Bendure held the inquest this forenoon.
